Overarching Principle

The over-riding principle is the preservation of life and protection of the public, police and any unknown subjects. The aim is to protect the public in the most appropriate method balancing the risk of harm to the public in the short and longer term.

1	Minimise risk to any potential Serco Custodians
2	Minimise risk to the general public / in or outside court
3	Maximise the safety to police officers
4	Minimise risk to unidentified suspects
5	Identify, locate, contain and neutralise the threat posed by the unknown subjects
