

It is only by following the above process that a suitably effective installation can take place as the exploration of all possibilities have been extinguished with the most appropriate (taking deployment times, risk and audio quality into consideration) has been chosen.

It is also noted that in MPS0003996 there is reference to the TSU activity

TSU activity

TSU activity appropriate testing may well have assisted in the improvement of the audio obtained.

Efforts should be made to obtain better intelligible speech not necessarily better sounding speech. The analysis of any testing would assist in determining whether the installation was suitable to obtain intelligible speech and if not, adjustments could have been made to provide better intelligible audio from the vehicle. For example, ensuring that the test material is representative of the subject, and in representative